Women are cheerful losers—of advice issue.

Whether one spelled it droug-or drouth, it was a long dry spell.

An optimist is one who expects to see a new circus come out.

We are also having some stop flights of rotary juke boxes.

There is little danger of being struck by lightning or by an aerial line.

The only short cut to knowledge is found in carefully avoiding cuts.

A scientist declares that much talk is fatiguing. Especially to the listeners.

Crime news headlines are usually not enough to warrant those who don't want to read.

Who remembers away back when there was no Muscle Shoals problem awaiting solution.

If you don't think you are better than anyone, you have an inferiority complex.

Citizens who choose the laws which they will obey have an avice to select from.

There's telling what a jury may do, but if forced to hazard a guess, fairly safe to bet on an acquittal.

Fireproof mail pouches are being developed. Probably to hold those red-hot love letters sometimes read to juries.

It appears that they are even expected to take second lieutenants seriously.

LABOR DAY

Although Labor Day as we know it in America was first celebrated in 1882, the first Labor Day parades which usually accompanies its observance might well be considered the first Labor Day parades of the craft-guilds in England and on the continent of Europe.

While there is some faded history as to the exact date of the observance of Labor Day, it appears that its first observance was a parade by the Knights of Labor in New York in 1882.

The idea spread, and in 1885,

Colorado passed the law making the day a legal holiday.

In 1894, the Knights of Labor Day, a holiday in the District of Columbia and in all Federal departments, since 1894, has been observed as a day of official recognition.

Established on the first Monday in September, Labor Day has long been widely observed, especially in cities and towns.

With parades, speeches, games and general picnics in which all classed take part.

It is the nation's annual tribute to the army of workers—a fitting recognition of the dignity of honest work.

"I had been through a bad spell of sickness and my strength did not return. I was the most of time on the bed. I was not strong enough to lift myself up. I had to have but headaches which would hurt me until I could hardly stand.

"Some asked me why I did not go to a doctor. I told them of it as I thought I would see what would it do. I was not strong enough to walk home. I came out. My strength returned, and I could not be seen from head to toe.

Adults Contract Children's Diseases

Adults can, and do contract many children's diseases. And, usually, they suffer from them much more than children do. For example, children contract worms, an almost entirely associated with children. Sometimes they do not even know they are having active medical treatments without realizing that what they are cause is the reason for their illness. Yet, the symptoms are the same as in children, loss of appetite, and, in some cases, loss of weight, loss of sleep, itching of the nose and anus, and abdominal pains. And, the same methods of treatment are used—pounds round and pin worms from children who do the same for adults. What's Cross Vernacular, which you can get at Sold by Peoples Drug Store.
